FUNDING LIFELINE FOR ADVICE CENTRE

HARLOW'S cash-strapped welfare rights and advice service has been handed a Government funding boost to help keep it afloat in the wake of devastating cuts to its budget.

HWRA provides vulnerable residents with free employment and benefits advice from its offices in East Gate.

But last year the amount of money it received from Harlow Council was slashed, leaving the service operating on a shoestring.

Now, after being encouraged to bid for a share of the Government's £16.7m Hardship Fund by town MP Bill Rammell, the service has received £92,366.

HWRA trustee David Waller said: "We have worked hard to attract additional funding to protect local advice services."

"We are particularly pleased that the application to the Hardship Fund was successful because it provides

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

much-needed funds this financial year."

The council had originally planned to withdraw all public funding from the service but was forced to reconsider its proposals following a High Court challenge in March last year.

Although the authority then agreed to fund the service to the tune of £120,000 a year over a five-year period, HWRA could no longer afford to continue offering the same level of service and was forced to make redundancies and scale back its operations.

But Mr Rammell claimed the latest cash injection would go a long way towards helping the service continue its vital work in the community.

"When Harlow Council announced it would be cutting funding by over 80 per cent last year, effectively closing the service, I fought strongly against this decision," he said.

"I am therefore delighted that the Hardship Fund has awarded the advice centre a grant of £92,366 for this financial year. It shows the Government is aware of how the recession has hit the voluntary and community sector and has acted to help small, local organisations like HWRA."

Mr Waller added: "The outlook remains difficult but we are hopeful that applications to other funding bodies will also be approved."

Jail 'wish' of teen acquitted of murder

ONE of two teenagers cleared of starting a fire in which a young woman died later committed burglaries with the sole intention of being arrested and sent to jail, a court heard.

Chelmsford Crown Court heard the Carl Manton (19) had struggled to cope with being shunned and branded a murderer following the trial in June last year which ended with his acquittal.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

Manton, of Bishopsfield, Harlow, and a 17-year-old co-accused were cleared after the prosecution dropped the case against them over the death of 24-year-old Kerry Youngs in a flat fire at Sherwood House, Bush Fair.

The court was told that while the "glare of publicity" on his co-accused had been reduced because his identity had been protected due to his age, Manton had started drinking heavily.

Despite the possibility of receiving a compensation payout of up to £250,000 as a result of the murder trial, Manton broke into two addresses in Joyner's Field, Harlow, last December "to get arrested" Judge Roger Hayward-Smith was told.

James Howard, representing Manton, told the judge: "I have other concerns. He was acquitted following a five week trial and I've never known him in the mental state he's in today."

"Since the trial people treat him as if he's a murderer. He's shunned, called a murderer to his face and can't get a job. He wants to remain in custody. He's saying he wants to go to prison for three years."

Mr Howard continued: "He's taken to drink which he didn't do and drinks constantly. At the time of these offences he was drunk and committed them because he wanted to get arrested."

Manton pleaded guilty to two counts of attempted burglary.

Remanding him in custody pending psychiatric reports, the judge said: "Custody is very much on the cards but all options are open. He's not well."

Hundreds run to raise thousands for hospice

HUNDREDS of runners raised a heart-pumping £7,000 for St Clare Hospice when they took part in the annual 10k run.

Andrew Mynott, from the Saffron Striders running club, won the men's race in a time of 35 minutes 7 seconds while Fiona Halls, a member of the same club, won the women's event, crossing the finishing line in 40 minutes 42 seconds.

Club prizes went to Harlow Running Club in the men's competition and Saffron Striders for the women. Wheelchair race winner Richard Chiassaro, from Harlow Running Club, posted the quickest time of the day with 31 minutes 9 seconds.

Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser for the hospice, said: "We are delighted that so many runners turned out to support us on Sunday and raise £7,000 towards our work which is certain to grow as sponsorship floods in!"

"It was another great year for the hospice 10k with over 500 runners taking to the roads surrounding the hospice centre."

"Our thanks for all those who took part or came to support family members."

Cops renew Lubbock appeal

POLICE marked this week's ninth anniversary of the death of Stuart Lubbock, whose body was found in the swimming pool at the former Roydon home of entertainer Michael Barrymore, by repeating their appeal for information.

Their investigation into the death of father-of-two Mr Lubbock (31), of Great Brays, Harlow, was reopened by police in 2006 and remains ongoing.

"We remain completely committed to doing everything we can to establish how Stuart died and how he received his injuries," said a police spokeswoman.

"We are convinced that somebody knows exactly what happened to Stuart but so far they have not shared this information with us."

Anyone with information is asked to contact Essex Police on (01245) 452208.

County pulls the plug on people's poll

A PEOPLE'S poll to decide which of three projects in Harlow should receive a £100,000 grant has been branded a "total farce" after Essex County Council cancelled the vote and split the cash.

Councillor John Jowers vetoed the poll for the People's £100,000 Community Chest grant following concerns that the result would not fully represent residents' views.

Cllr Jowers, Essex County Council's cabinet member with responsibility for communities and planning, decided to give each project £33,000, despite once describing the scheme as "democracy working at its best".

Mark Spraggins from the Church Langley Community Centre which was one of the three projects short-listed for the money, said this week:

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"It's a total farce.

"Not only were the forms incorrect but they only required people to put an X, their postcode and house number on them. So it was possible that someone could get lots of forms and make up the entries.

"A lot of people were so cross about what had happened that I think the council realised there would be a substantial outcry if one group had been awarded the cash."

He added: "While I couldn't say that we're not disappointed not to get the whole lot, obviously a third is better than nothing."

The announcement that the vote had been cancelled came after the Star revealed that many households in Church Langley and Potter Street who were eligible to take part in the poll had not received voting forms.

As a result the council extended the voting deadline by two weeks but this failed to allay fears among the three community groups taking part.

Cllr Jowers said: "My vision for the People's £100,000 Community Chest was to mobilise residents and empower them to make decisions that affect their community.

"However, due to consternation amongst local people, it has been my decision to divide the grant equally between all three finalists.

"At the same time, I do not want the community to lose sight of the fact that the cash will ultimately benefit the local area, enabling community groups to change their neighbourhoods for the better.

"And to that end I hope all residents feel happy with the outcome."

The two other projects - improvements to Brentnall and Barnsley Woods and a clubhouse for the South East Harlow Sports and Youth Association - will also receive £33,000.

MP supports anti-BNP protest

HARLOW MP Bill Rammell joined anti-Fascist campaigners when they held a rally in Harlow town centre on Saturday to warn of the dangers of voting for the British National Party.

Members of Harlow Unite Against Fascism handed out leaflets warning people of the far-right political group's politics of "hated and bigotry".

The BNP recently announced it would put forward a candidate to stand in the Harlow constituency in the forthcoming General Election.

Unite Against Fascism organiser Martin Smith said: "The BNP builds support by whipping up hatred against every minority, just as Hitler targeted Jewish people.

"If the BNP ever came to power they would strip every person in this country of their democratic rights and freedoms."

Holocaust survivor warns of the politics of prejudice

A HOLOCAUST survivor has urged voters to shun the British National Party.

Speaking during a visit to Harlow College where she gave students a harrowing account of her experiences in Auschwitz, Kitty Hart-Moxon said: "People need to understand the danger of the BNP.

"The lesson to be learned from the Holocaust is to apply it to today's world because prejudice exists today.

"The BNP is a very good example of what happens when there's prejudice. It starts with verbal abuse and you don't know where it's going to finish."

Ms Hart-Moxon (84) has dedicated her life to raising awareness of the Holocaust in order to protect future generations.

In her talk she stressed the importance of voting to the students, many of whom will be eligible to vote for the first time in the upcoming general election.

"My message for Harlow is don't vote BNP if you want peace in the world," she said.

"People should vote for one of the main parties. That is down to individual choice, of course, but certainly should exclude the BNP."

Motorway driver dies after car rolls into ditch

A MOTORIST was killed when his car swerved off the M11 near Harlow.

The accident happened at about 5.25pm on Sunday on the southbound carriageway between junctions seven and six.

Police received reports that a blue Ford Ka had overturned on an embankment and rolled into a ditch.

Firefighters from Harlow, Epping and Loughton were called to the scene and used cutting equipment to release the 40-year-old driver, who is believed to come from south London, from the car.

The air ambulance was also called but the man was pronounced dead at the scene.

The southbound carriageway of the motorway was closed for more than three hours while the vehicle was recovered and an Essex Police crash team carried out an initial investigation.

Anyone with information about the crash should contact PC Bob Colbert at the Chigwell road policing unit on 0300 333 4444.

'Hobby bobbies' hit by job freeze

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A FREEZE on recruitment at Essex Police has led to a number of so-called 'hobby bobbies' currently on the beat in Harlow to resign, it has been claimed.

Nearly 500 volunteers who make up the Special Constabulary, including 21 in the town, have received letters saying there would be no paid police jobs available this year.

And those who have not performed well enough in tests have been told that their applications to become full-time officers will be rejected.

A close relation of two special constables in Harlow said many specials no longer had the motivation to continue volunteering and were leaving as a result.

"Many were specials because they were hoping for a full time job at the end of it," he said. "They were surprised and very angry and they are leaving because it's not worth doing for nothing."

"Many others feel the same. It's not the way forward for helping fight crime; they will lose manpower and surely crime will only go up."

A spokeswoman for Essex Police said that changes to the funding for the constabulary meant that officer numbers were not anticipated to grow in the next 12-18 months.

She said: "This will put our budget under intense pressure in the coming years and although the force retains its long term ambition to increase police officer numbers, the immediate focus is on sustaining the current number of police officers."

"To enable us to manage recruitment in a timely and effective way and in line with the current economic climate, Essex Police has identified the need to reduce the number of people currently waiting for appointment as a police officer."

Law firm helps homeless with gift of tents and free advice

A FIRM of solicitors has donated 10 tents to a charity helping the homeless to ease the plight of people living rough in the town.

Streets2Homes, in Wych Elm, received the gift from Lucia Benyu of Harlow solicitors Peters & Company on Friday.

Three solicitors from the Terminus House practice have also been visiting the charity once a week to offer free legal advice to the homeless.

Streets2Homes manager Patsy Dye said: "Lucia came to us after the cold snap we had this winter offering their services to our clients and to set up a weekly service here.

"The service is always full, it's absolutely great."

Jackie Brown, one of the solicitors offering advice, said: "Homeless people are legally entitled to help through Legal Aid but it's about knowing where to go to get that help."

"Not always, but very often, people can be helped. I love doing it."

Rammell warns town is missing out on free swimming

HARLOW MP Bill Rammell has publicly called on authorities in the town to provide free swimming for children and the over 60s.

Mr Rammell said he asked Harlow Sports Trust and Harlow Council to take advantage of special Government funding for free swimming 12 months ago.

The trust will run the soon-to-open Leisurezone centre in Second Avenue while the council provides significant funding for the provision of swimming.

Mr Rammell said: "The Government's free swimming initiative has provided a great opportunity to increase local participation in healthy activities.

"Even one hour of swimming free every week in a time when the pool was not expected to be busy would not impact unduly on the Leisurezone's running costs.

"Harlow Sports Trust and Harlow Council have a commitment and a duty to our community which we're in danger of losing just as our fantastic new Leisurezone opens."

He said the trust rejected the idea last April and again this year, claiming the Government scheme would involve a cost to them.

However, Mr Rammell said neighbouring Broxbourne Council earned more income overall through the provision of free swimming than it loses through free sessions.

In a joint statement the council and the sports trust said a "great deal of consideration" had been given to the scheme.

But they added: "As the grant allocation from the Government is capped and usage is not, there is a genuine concern that the funding will not cover the cost.

"This would not be sustainable for the new centre as potentially a funding shortfall would need to be found, which would affect the overall provision of services at the centre."

Delay fuels fears for centre refurb

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A RESIDENTS' group promised £350,000 by Harlow Council for the renovation of a popular community centre says it is still waiting for the cash to be handed over – SIX years after work was due to start.

Berecroft Residents' Association chairman Zulquar Cheema has made a string of complaints to the council about delays to the refurbishment of Maunds Hatch Community Centre, right.

"The lack of clarity in the council's communications with us has been astonishing," Mr Cheema told the Star. "We have been waiting for this project to get off the ground for six years now but I'm increasingly doubtful we'll ever see the money."

The saga began in 2003 when the residents' association approached the council regarding the potential sale of land formerly occupied by a Scout hut, asking for the proceeds to be ploughed back into the community.

The authority agreed and sold the land to a private developer who built 18 flats on the site.

At a meeting of the council's policy and resources committee in 2004, it was agreed the money raised through the sale should be channelled into the refurbishment of the community centre.

The project then appeared in the council's non-housing capital programme for 2007-8 with a budget of £500,000, before resurfacing in the same document the following year with a revised budget of £350,000.

However, the authority admitted in 2008 that it had been forced to spend the money originally earmarked for the scheme elsewhere and instead allocated a payment of £50,000 to get the project off the ground – none of which was given directly to the association.

"It would seem that the money they offered in 2008 was swallowed up by various fees," said Mr Cheema. "We certainly never saw any of it."

"If the project is now shelved, as we suspect it will be, we just hope the money is genuinely put back into the community as promised. Otherwise the council will have some very serious questions to answer."

This week Graham Branchett, strategic director at Harlow Council, denied the project had been axed and claimed the authority would be seeking a meeting with the residents' association to determine its future following next month's local elections.

"Out of the £50k allocated to develop plans and options for the centre, around £20k has so far been spent on architects and surveyor fees," he said.

"It has taken a long time to work with the community as the aim has always been that the community would run the centre. No formal decision on the future of the project has been made by any committee of the council."

Lorry ban on overtaking along stretch of M11

LORRIES are to be banned from overtaking on a stretch of the M11 to the north of Harlow.

The restriction, which comes into force on April 12 for an 18-month trial period, will apply from 7am-7pm and affect vehicles of 7.5 tonnes and over.

It will be in operation on a 2½-mile section of the northbound carriageway, starting before the exit for Junction 9, and a south-bound stretch of just under a mile north of the bridge carrying Stretthall Road over the M11.

The aim is to reduce congestion and cut the risk of accidents caused by slow-moving traffic on two long, uphill sections where the M11 is two lanes wide.

By keeping heavy vehicles to the inside lane, the Highways Agency hopes to ensure a clear outside lane for faster, lighter traffic.

Area performance manager Peter Smith said: "Heavy goods vehicles, which make up 20 per cent of the traffic, slow down on the uphill slope and when they try to overtake each other it can block the motorway and slow the traffic for several miles."

Thousands on 'strike' at new bowling alley

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

BACK in the Swinging Sixties, the baby boomer generation decided there was no time to waste in having fun.

With more leisure time and expendable incomes than ever before, many people revelled in the freedom that followed the post-war austerity of the late 1940s and '50s.

Harlow was no different. And when ten-pin bowling came to town, it was all the rage.

Previously in Nostalgia we have featured stories about the Cossor Social Club's thriving bowling league with pictures aplenty provided by readers.

But when did bowling first come to Harlow? The answer is 1962 with the opening of a £225,000 ten-pin alley located roughly where the Harvey Centre multi-storey car park is now.

Reports from the time suggest the new leisure activity was an immediate hit with Harlow residents. Indeed, the Harlow

Gazette reported that "something approaching 5,000" people attended the venue on its opening day.

All games on the first day – a Saturday – were free, although players were charged 6d for shoe hire. The next day the cost went up to 3/6 per game.

By the time the hall shut its doors at 2.15am on Monday, more than 1,000 games had been played.

Because of teething problems with the new machinery, the alley's manager Ted Bolwerk decided to allow free bowling for the rest of the week.

Despite the game's massive popularity with locals, the alley was forced to close at midnight every night in order to give engineers time to sort out its complicated machinery.

Mr Bolwerk told the press: "I've had about 10 hours sleep in the last five days. It's just as well I hold two engineering degrees – I can actually check what is going on."

The following Friday Mr Bolwerk was optimistic that the problems could be sorted out ready for the weekend and another crowd of Harlow residents ready to have more fun.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Harlow Town FC

TWO weeks ago Nostalgia took a trip down memory lane to the third round of the FA Cup and the exploits of "little" Harlow Town FC.

That's when Harlow knocked Leicester City from the Second Division – then the second tier of the English game – out of the competition.

Harlow won the game 1-0, as we reported before. However, it appears a famous face WAS among the losers that day.

Former England striker and Match of the Day presenter Gary Lineker was in the team beaten by Harlow.

In our piece two weeks ago we speculated that the game night have been played too early in the career of the fledgling front man who went on to play for Tottenham Hotspur and Barcelona and win the Golden Boot at the 1986 World Cup. But not so! Ron Hornsey, who told us about the original story, told us that after further research he found out that Lineker did play on the day.

The day when 'little' Harlow won a place in FA Cup history

In fact, he has often referred to the fateful day with a shudder during his coverage of FA Cup games for the BBC.

The Hawks went on to play at Watford in the fourth round and again put up a spirited display by taking a one goal lead. Sadly, the Hertfordshire team then notched up four goals before Harlow scored twice again. The game finished 4-3 to the home side, ending Harlow's Wembley dreams.

Cremation fees down

Free cremations on the ratepayer for Harlow residents are planned by 1990. Costs are being scaled down over the next five years by the council. Cllr Rene Morris said: "Cremations should be free."

Rate rise report row

Harlow MP Jerry Hayes is to complain to the Government about Harlow councillors. He claims Labour councillors withheld a report criticising the proposed rate increase. Council leader Tom Farr said it was a "deflection" by the MP.

Apartheid exhibition

A campaign to inform people about apartheid started with an exhibition in the Town Hall. The week was organised by local authorities throughout Essex to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the Sharpsville Massacre.

Youths cause trouble

Gangs of youths aimlessly wandering the streets have been disturbing residents with loud music and trampling on flowerbeds in Katherines and Summers area. Councillors have set up a forum to show youngsters what amenities are on offer.

Police hail success of pub drugs crackdown

THE message that drugs will not be tolerated in Harlow's pubs, clubs and bars is getting through, according to Harlow Council.

A recent operation involving police with sniffer dogs and licensing officers failed to find any illegal substances in licensed premises in the town centre.

Sarah-Jane Dangerfield, vice-chairman of the council's licensing committee, said: "Together we want to cut down drug misuse in the town and this exercise is helping to do just that. The risk that sniffer dogs could turn up at any point and catch them out is not worth the gamble."

Police believe the six arrests and three street cautions which came as a result of two previous operations may have had the desired impact.

Assistant Chief Inspector Tom Mitchell said: "This multi-agency operation successfully achieves a key aim, to keep people safe and free from drugs whilst enjoying a night out in Harlow."

Aldi puts plan for Stow food store on hold

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE long-awaited arrival of budget supermarket Aldi in Harlow could be delayed by more than three years after the proposed site for the store was let to a car dealer.

The German company has put plans for its new store in The Stow on hold due to concerns about the viability of the 14 flats included in the scheme in the current recession-hit housing market.

In the interim the company has negotiated a three-year licence agreement with a car dealership to bring in extra cash.

The delay has come as a blow to struggling shops at The Stow who hoped the supermarket would bring much-needed customers to the nearby precinct.

One shop owner said: "The Stow is crying out for investment and desperately needs Aldi to get on with it and build this new shop."

"Blaming it on the housing market is not the way to go surely. They would easily be able to sell the flats and make a lot of money if they went ahead now."

The agreement with the car dealer can be ended after 12 months. But it seems Aldi is unlikely to go ahead with building the new store until house prices rise.

The project has been hit by delays since initially being awarded planning permission by Harlow Council in March last year.

Aldi had been in dispute with the authority over the level of section 106 payments due to be paid for the scheme.

The legally-binding section 106 agreements cover contributions to pay for infrastructure improvements.

But that disagreement has now been settled.

It is understood the company is still committed to developing the site but an Aldi spokeswoman said the firm did not want to comment on the matter.

Pop on down to the Race for Life

BODY-popping youngsters strutted their stuff outside Asda on Saturday to encourage the women of Harlow to sign up for this year's Race for Life.

Youngsters from The Playhouse's resident dance school Hip Hop Pop joined Cancer Research UK supporters outside the supermarket to promote the fundraising event.

Race for Life event manager Lucy Hynes said: "We're incredibly grateful to the local dance group for their support. If people enjoyed what they saw, they can look forward to more performances by the team at the Harlow Race for Life itself next month."

Race for Life gives women of all ages and fitness levels the chance to join together to walk, jog or run a 5km or 10km course to raise money for cancer research.

This year's race takes place in Harlow Town Park on Sunday, May 9. Women can enter the race by logging on to www.raceforlife.org or by calling 0871 641 1111.

Changes to environment services –

From April 2010 a number of changes are being made by Harlow Council to environmental services in the town. This includes introducing new services and changing the way some services are provided.

Waste & Recycling Changes

Bulky waste collection choices

Residents now have two options from which to choose when booking a heavy squad collection for unwanted bulky household items.

Residents can either have their items collected for free but wait around four weeks* or pay for a priority collection within five working days.

Prices for the priority collection service are:

1 to 3 items £10.00 + VAT (£11.75)
4 to 8 items £15.00 + VAT (£17.63)

The maximum number of items which can be booked for each collection is eight.

All collections of large electronic and electrical items such as electric ovens and fridges remain free of charge.

To book a heavy squad collection phone Contact Harlow on (01279) 446655 or drop into the Civic Centre. Payment for the priority service will need to be made at the time of booking.

Bulky household items can also be taken to the Recycling Centre for Household Waste in River Way. Visit www.essex.gov.uk for more information.

*Timescales for free collections depend on demand.

Garden Waste Collections

Green-fingered residents can now sign up to receive fortnightly garden waste collections all year round from a wheelie bin*.

The new service is being offered by Harlow Council for an annual cost of £75 plus VAT (£88.13). The yearly fee works out to be just £3.39 per collection.

With the fortnightly wheelie bin service it makes it easier for residents to store and get rid of garden waste without the mess.

Bookable garden waste collections are still available all year round. The Council now charges 50p plus VAT (59p) for each bag collected under this service. Residents can either use their own bags or collect a roll of bags from the Civic Centre. Terms and conditions apply. The maximum number of bags per booking is eight.

With the garden waste collection services grass cuttings, hedge cuttings, prunings, leaves, bark, flowers, weeds and branches can all be recycled.

Residents can sign up for the new fortnightly service or book a collection by phoning Contact Harlow on (01279) 446655.

*Households not suitable for storing a wheelie bin will be given bags.

Recycle when you want

Changes have been made to recycling bringbank sites across the town. Now that residents have more bin capacity to recycle at home seven sites have closed. The ten remaining sites are open all the time and new services have been added to some.

Street Cleaning Changes

Neat and tidy streets

A new way to keep Harlow's housing estates clean has been introduced.

The "Together We Can" block cleanse service that was in operation throughout Harlow has been replaced by a more regular street cleaning service called the "Wave".

The "Wave" service will see all housing areas cleaned at least every four weeks and includes the following:

- Sweeping the streets and roads
- Deep cleaning all back alleys and side paths
- Litter picking small grass areas
- Investigating and removing illegally dumped rubbish.

The only other change to the service is that the skips for residents to get rid of large unwanted items will no longer be provided in housing areas every six months.

Although the skips were popular it encouraged some residents and commercial companies to fly-tip in the areas which made it expensive to clear up and dispose of at landfill sites.

Removing graffiti is part of Kier Harlow's everyday cleaning

The new way of working will help to reduce this and encourage residents to dispose of their rubbish more responsibly using other services available in the town. For example the Council offers a bookable bulky waste collection service.

Street cleaning services in Harlow are carried out by Kier Harlow Limited. Their everyday cleaning work also includes removing abandoned vehicles, removing reported fly-tipping, litter picking open spaces, sweeping main roads and shopping areas, cleaning up graffiti and emptying litterbins.

Contact Harlow (01279) 446655 or email contact@harlow.gov.uk

• Make sure that you always dispose of your waste responsibly, recycle or re-use where you can and use local services which are available.

• If someone else takes your waste away make sure that they have a waste carrier licence. You can check by calling 08708 506506. Until your items are taken to a landfill site or a recycling centre they are your responsibility, so if they are illegally dumped you could be fined up to £5,000.

Help us clean up

Harlow Council and Kier Harlow Limited are working hard to keep the town clean, but they can't do it alone.

What you can do to help

- If you witness fly-tipping, make a note of the make, colour and registration of any vehicle involved, the location, time and date of the incident.
- Report fly-tipping to:

The anti-social behaviour action line "It's Your Call" 0845 605 2222

We are watching

Dumping rubbish in a public place is an offence and subject to investigation by Harlow Council. We can use CCTV equipment in an area at any time and this can help us catch fly-tippers. The maximum penalty for fly-tipping is £50,000 and or 12 months in prison.

Landscape Changes

Changes to grass cutting and maintenance of open spaces

Service standards for grass cutting and the maintenance of public open spaces have changed to help save more than £40,000.

Harlow Council's annual grass cutting programme will start in April and run through to late August 2010.

Road verges, sports fields, open spaces, housing areas, playgrounds and small grass areas will now be cut every 17 working days. Public parks and sponsored roundabouts will be cut every 12 working days.

Sports Field banks will continue to be cut once a year and other grass banks three times a year to provide wildlife spaces during the summer months.

Further savings will be made by not planting trees to replace trees removed due to subsidence.

Weed spray treatments will be carried out twice a year and weed spraying on hard surfaces will take place in June and September.

Hedge cutting across the town will continue in the same cyclical pattern and timescales for urgent services like dealing with dangerous trees and the regular maintenance and inspection of playgrounds will be maintained.

Grass cutting and other landscape services are carried out by Kier Harlow Limited.

Love Harlow and cut crime

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A NEW campaign calling on residents to show their love for Harlow has been launched by police.

The Love Harlow Project 2010 is an initiative designed to cut crime and anti-social behaviour by tapping into the town's community spirit.

Sergeant Rob Hance, of the Harlow neighbourhood policing team, said: "Harlow is a vibrant town with some beautiful green areas. However, a small number of mindless people who damage and vandalise mean that pockets of areas can appear rundown, leaving a negative image for people who live there, work or visit."

"The Love Harlow Project aims to work with partner agencies and communities to identify these areas and target any issues such as anti-social behaviour, graffiti, drugs, burglary and car crime."

He said schoolchildren have already become involved, producing crime reduction artwork which will be displayed throughout the town.

Police launched the project in the town centre last Wednesday and Saturday, handing out information on a range of projects running over the Easter holidays.

Representatives of the Criminal Justice Board and HM Prison Service in Essex were also in town to warn young people what can happen if they get into trouble with the law.

They brought with them a life-sized replica of a prison cell, giving would be criminals a taste of what life is like on the inside.

Joel Charles, vice-chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said: "We are supporting this project which will help improve the town and encourage people to take pride in where they live."

"We want residents to work with us and be more active in looking after their areas. We can't let the anti-social few win and bring down our areas. If we work together we can make a difference."

Charity helping disabled enjoy the waterways

WITH a newly refurbished boat about to set sail on the Stort, Star reporter DAN PHILLIPS visited Harlow-based Canal Boat Project to find out more about how the charity is managing to stay afloat in the recession.

"WE are the best kept secret in Essex," said project manager Doreen Goodall as I joined her and three volunteer crew members for a jaunt along the Stort.

We were aboard the Stort Daybreak – one of the four boats used by the Canal Boat Project to help open up the waterways to disabled people – on a typically rainy day.

The Harlow-based charity is impressively well equipped for trips up and down the river to beauty spots such as Parndon Mill and beyond.

Despite an unimposing office – a wooden 'shed' by the River Stort – the project has two day boats, two holiday boats and an astonishing 137 volunteers.

As well as manning the boats, the volunteers also carry out almost all of the maintenance on the vessels. This means overheads are kept low.

The group is just completing a full refit of its boat the Stort Challenger and when I visited volunteers were hard at work making it ready for its first booking next week.

But even on the cusp of finishing this project, the group already has its collective eye on another goal – to buy a brand new holiday boat by 2013.

"That would enable us to use the Challenger as a day boat and then sell on our small boat," said Doreen. "The only problem is we'll need to raise £175,000 and I don't know where we're going to get the money from! So if there's anybody out there who wants to help, then let us know!"

ALL ABOARD: Pictured on board the Stort Daybreak are volunteers Michael Motts, Tom Bilbow and John Eyre, project manager Doreen Goodall and Chris Adolph of Autochair (s)

Volunteer Tom Bilbow said: "It is our goal to have a group of disabled people go out together with no assistance from us. Because it is possible and that would really be fantastic."

The boats currently enable day trips for groups on the river and longer trips for families that have a disabled member.

They are equipped with wet rooms, ambulant toilets, surfaces built at heights suitable for people in wheelchairs and specialist winches made by British company Autochair, all designed to enable rather than stop people enjoying the river.

Autochair's Chris Adolph said: "It's hard to imagine what it's like for a mentally aware person to have a physical disability and be stuck inside watching TV all day. That's why organisations like this, that help give these people different experiences, are so important."

All the volunteers spoke with special enthusiasm about one thing: the looks of delight on the faces of disabled people who get the opportunity to pilot a boat. Taking hold of the tiller of the Stort Daybreak, I caught a glimpse of what they meant.

I can't imagine what it is like living with a disability but there's no doubt anyone can understand the thrill of being on the river – even if you don't get to control the weather.

Forum celebrates diversity of faith

AN interfaith group in Harlow has held its inaugural annual meeting.

Harlow Faith Forum has formed a constitution as a charity and elected seven trustees.

The group plans to have three or four meetings each year to help to foster mutual understanding and respect between people of different faiths within Harlow.

They also want to ensure that faith has a proper place in the life of the town and to enable people of different religions to speak together on matters of common concern. Chairman Rev Mark Bennet said: "There is a great diversity of faith in Harlow, which includes a number of small groups as well as larger and long-established faith communities."

"The faith forum will foster mutual understanding and respect and help us to avoid unnecessary fear and conflict."

Salon staff back GOSH fundraiser

A HARLOW beauty salon is throwing its weight behind a national campaign to raise £1m towards new operating theatres at Great Ormond Street Hospital.

Gigi's Hair & Beauty, in the Harvey Centre, is supporting the HAIRraising appeal by organising various events including a raffle for a £50 salon voucher, photo shoot vouchers, a hair product hamper and wine.

Salon spokeswoman Gladys Wright said: "Every member of the team wants to get behind HAIRraising and show we will go to any lengths to help these children."

"We are asking our customers to add a £1 donation to their bill until the end of April."

The operating theatres will be used for children who require specialist neurosurgery.

Stop trying to cloud the issue

SIR, Councillor Tony Hall (Letters, March 25), with the clever use of hair-splitting, appears to have totally missed my point regarding Harlow Council's failure to provide free swimming and exercise for OAPs and the under 16s. So let's try again.

Harlow Council has failed to match the efforts of areas such as Waltham Abbey, Sawbridgeworth, Loughton, Epping and Ongar. Presumably, these bodies view their taxpayers' exercise more important to them than Harlow.

They have chosen not only to provide these facilities free of charge but also seem reticent to whine on about the cost.

It would appear that these other bodies are happy to accept the fact that it is their responsibility to provide exercise and swimming free and not to expect to make further profits beyond their OAPs' council tax contributions.

No, Cllr Hall, stop trying to cloud the issue. I would have thought that every person who read my letter extracted its general meaning, except you. We need a council that doesn't hide behind a self-picked sports trust to cover its own deficiencies.

Had you had enough foresight to realise that all pools have to be maintained and budgeted for, we would not be in the position of our OAPs being frozen-out by the exorbitant costs you wish to impose through the sports trust.

Please note that nowhere in my letter did I infer that OAPs were obese. What a strange view you seem to have of the people who

Has it all been a waste of my time?

SIR, I was shocked this week to receive notification from Harlow Council that when communal recycling wheelie bins are "contaminated" with inappropriate items, the entire contents go to landfill.

This news comes in a week when I have seen a number of full-page ads in local newspapers in which the council boasts about its amazing recycling achievements.

I have meticulously sorted my recycling for more than three years. However, every week I notice items in the communal recycling bin that should not be there. I presume, therefore, that everything I have ever recycled has gone to landfill, along with all the hours of my life that I have spent rinsing and sorting household rubbish. What a waste!

Furthermore, reading between the lines, because these large wheelie bins get emptied into large recycling trucks, could it be the case that each truckload becomes contaminated? Every truckload represents the recycling efforts of many, many households.

I feel let down by my neighbours who, like me, will have received clear information about how to recycle, but I also feel let down by the council. Perhaps they should make some effort to sort this waste rather than taking the lazy way out?

In the meantime, how will the council cater for me, a person who genuinely wants to recycle but simply can't?

A. Kurton
Spring Hills, Harlow

have elected you. With the greatest respect, I hope you redress this matter before the May elections. People do not forget.

Bob Stannard
Belfield Gardens, Harlow

Others provide a subsidy to swim

SIR, Reading the letter from Tony Hall makes one wonder why on earth Harlow Council exists if it continues to cut back on providing facilities for Harlow and just turns itself into one large money making machine at our expense.

The present fiasco is trying to defend the lack of subsidies for swimming. Cllr Hall's defence of the lack of subsidy from Harlow Council rang very hollow given all the surrounding Tory authorities are providing this free service.

When other neighbouring councils can provide this subsidy for a free swim, what is so special about Harlow? What explains the point blank 'no' from these local Conservatives when it comes to providing the additional subsidy to the sports trust for a free swim for Harlow's children?

Is it because yet again the local Conservative Party knows the price of everything and the value of nothing?

In his letter, Cllr Hall also took a swipe at bus passes. Is this the next service for the Tory axe? If so, could we please be told the truth before the election in May.

Michael Danvers
Tunmeade, Harlow

Will our recycling success cut tax?

SIR, I see that Harlow Council has paid to advertise the fact that recycling in the town has increased 29 per cent in six months. It then states it is closing seven recycling sites.

Hopefully Harlow will meet its 40 per cent recycling target by the end of the year. Does this mean with no Government fines next year our council tax will actually go down or will the council find some other useless way of spending this money?

Maybe on more different coloured wheelie bins which will increase the eyesore Harlow is becoming.

B. Hood
Brockles Mead, Harlow

Budget fudged the critical issue

SIR, Do the Labour Party really think the people of Harlow are totally stupid?

Last week's budget not only fudged the critical issue of how the nation will tackle the worst budget crisis in our history, but it also failed to come clean on how once again the poor will be hit hardest.

Labour, who claim they want a "future fair for all", effectively introduced two hidden taxes that will hit Harlow residents hard.

In addition to increasing national insurance (which all serious commentators now deem an income tax in all but name) they have frozen personal allowances. To make matters worse, those of us who have to drive to work will have to pay an extra three pence per litre on petrol.

To cap it all, after years of spending money as if it grew on trees, we face the prospect of our national debt hitting the dizzy heights of £1.4trillion. That equates to a debt of over £23,000 for every man, woman and child in the country.

Presumably, this is another achievement Bill Rammell will tell us we should be proud of?

Guy Mitchinson
Joyners Field, Harlow

What about the tax timebombs?

SIR, Last Wednesday we heard that nice Mr Darling reassure us that the economy was safe in his hands.

There was help to first time buyers, but how many of them can afford to buy a property of more than £150,000? And the budget was deafeningly silent on social housing.

There was help for car drivers, phasing in the three pence a litre rise in fuel duty. But any benefit is wiped out many times over by the 25 per cent fall in the value of sterling as overseas investors worry about the UK's eye-watering amounts of debt.

Why was there no mention of the freezing of personal tax allowances and the increase in national insurance contributions due next month? Nor any mention of the showroom tax on new cars, the broadband tax on telephone landlines and the increases in airport taxes. These are the ticking tax bombshells timed to go off the day after the election that will destroy our recovery.

Labour has made a complete mess of the British economy and is doing nothing to clean it up. Next year the Government will have to spend more on debt interest than on educating our children.

More businesses went bust in this recession than in any other, and more people have gone bankrupt under Labour than ever before in our history. One in four adults of working age in our country are not in work.

No-one has yet thought of a question to which the answer is five more years of this Prime Minister because there isn't one.

Mark Hall Moors, Harlow

County dismissed my road warning

SIR I write with regard to the letter from Simon Cook (Star, March 25) about the collision on Edinburgh Way near Tesco, where two lanes suddenly narrow into one.

A couple of years ago I contacted the highways department at Essex County Council about this very possibility. They replied that they did not think this was a problem! The obvious solution is to have the left-hand lane for left turns only.

At the exact same spot there is a problematic crossing between the cycle paths on either side of Edinburgh Way. Cyclists are supposed to cross over at this point. Unfortunately, using the crossing is dangerous as it is not possible from it to see what the traffic lights are doing.

Again, I asked ECC if a proper push-button crossing could be installed at this point. When used, this would only add a few seconds to waiting cars. However, this has been rejected as the A414 is a main through road and any additional stoppage will cause more backing of traffic. This despite the obvious danger in using this crossing.

County, please take note!

Matthew Gillman
Guilfords, Harlow

Traffic is moving freely again

SIR, A miracle has happened in Harlow. Two traffic blockers have been removed from Paringdon Road and the traffic is moving freely again. The green brigade and cyclists won't be very happy but at last the majority of considerate drivers are not being penalised for the reckless minority.

The boy racers will still speed over the remaining humps as they have never been a deterrent to them. Perhaps they can all be dug up now and sanity will prevail.

Name and address supplied - Editor

My privilege to serve the town

SIR, I'm writing to thank former councillor John Paul Goddard for his kind and generous words about me in your columns (Letters, March 18).

I would also like to thank the people of Stewards, and later Staple Tye, ward who have elected me on five occasions as their Liberal Democrat councillor for the past 19 years. I would also like to thank those council colleagues - councillors and staff - who have offered me their courtesy and kindness over that time.

It has been an immense privilege to serve the residents of my ward and indeed of the town in which I have spent nearly 30 years of my life and in which my children were born and raised. During my term of office I have always tried to put the interests of Harlow and its people first.

Clearly there has been disappointment along the way. I regret not having been able to be part of a majority Liberal Democrat council with the opportunity to put our policies and priorities fully into place.

But there have been achievements too. The changes that we implemented between 2002 and 2005 were effective in reforming a notoriously shambolic council. In particular, I hope that my project as chairman of the council to raise aspiration and attainment for young people in Harlow - something I am passionate about - will have some lasting effect.

Harlow and its people have been a major part of my adult life. Though I no longer live in the town, I wish it all the very best for the future and my Liberal Democrat colleagues every success in the elections this May.

Councillor Lorna Spenceley
Civic Centre, Harlow

I've had enough of party politics

SIR, A couple of weeks ago a correspondent justifiably complained about the increasing number of letters from supporters of various political parties, all just pushing their party's politics.

It has now got to the point where enough should be enough. Just because these people are obsessed with politics, they can't understand how boring it is to the rest of us.

Please, let us go back to the days when people wrote about things of local happenings and local interest to readers. If I never see another yawn-inducing letter from Guy Mitchinson or Stan Newsens and their like it will still be too soon.

STEWARDS: Students combined the music of Elvis Presley with the story of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night when they staged a show for pupils, staff and family members.

In the production, wild roustabout Chad (Harrison Taylor) turns up in a depressed, run-down town where fun and flirtation are banned by Mayor Matilda (Sarah Ellington).

As events unfurl, couples fall in love, girls dress as boys, Chad rides off into the sunset with Natalie (Helaina McLaren) and Mayor Matilda eventually marries the long-suffering Earl (Luke Lawrence).

Show directors Di Johnson and Karen Batterham said: "Every year we think the production gets better and better and this year was no exception."

"Audiences clearly had a great time and the talent displayed by pupils was amazing." (s)

LEAPFROG DAY

NURSERY: Children raised more than £400 with a sponsored mini-Olympics in aid of Sport Relief.

The youngest tots competed in a crawl up and down lanes while the older children took part in the long jump and running laps around the garden.

There was also skipping and relay races and the following day the group had a Lazy Town party with games and dancing.

Vicki Clift, charity organiser at the nursery in Greenway, Harlow, said: "The children had a really, really good time. Keeping exercise fun helps to keep them interested in it."

"They put in a lot of hard work in training for it." (s)

TANY'S DELL: Children at the Mowbray Road primary school have created an elephant for an exhibition in Harlow.

The pupils' submission for the Harlow Primary Schools Exhibition 2010, which opened on Saturday, was inspired by Salvador Dali's Elephant.

The surrealist master's work resides in the Tate Modern gallery in London while the primary schools' exhibition is a little closer to home at the Gibberd Gallery in the Civic Centre.

The exhibition is running for four weeks and is based on the theme of mythology and fantasy. The gallery will host a stunning imaginary world created entirely through the artistic endeavours of the schoolchildren.

Some 17 schools from the Harlow area are taking part in the exhibition.

Pictured with Harlow Council chairman edna Stevens are Tany's Dell pupils Ellie Greenwood, Tayla Walsh, Jake Bennett, Kenzer Gumble and Kirsten Hedger.

STAFF at printing company The Blue Group, the main sponsors of this year's St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk, dressed in pink on Friday to support the cause.

Harlow MP Bill Rammell and hospice chief executive Richard Cowie were invited to the company's factory in East Road, Harlow, where various fundraising activities and collections were taking place.

Paul Mursell, managing director of The Blue Group which has given £2,000 in sponsorship, said: "St Clare is a fantastic local charity and a cause worthy of supporting."

"We have worked with them in various ways over the past few months including hosting a recent business network meeting."

"As a local printer and business employing local people we wanted to give something back. Today has been a brilliant day of team building and hugely enjoyable for all of us. We know the funds raised will support great work for Harlow and the surrounding area."

Mr Cowie said: "The Midnight Walk has become a flagship event for us in Harlow and enjoyed last year by nearly 1,700 people."

"This year being our 20th we are hoping to see 2,000 taking part to not only help raise much needed funds for our local hospice service but also to have a great night out," He added: "We are very grateful to The Blue Group for supporting the event especially in such turbulent times."

IN the past two years the Star-backed Midnight Walk through Harlow has raised £200,000 for St Clare Hospice.

This year the walk takes place on Saturday, June 19. But even though that is almost three months away, we want you to sign up today. To take part you must be 14 or over. The cost of registration is £15 and you can do so in one of four ways - online, by email, by post or by telephone.

St Clare Hospice provides free-of-charge care for everyone over 18 living with a life-limiting illness. It provides physical, social, spiritual and psychological care for hundreds of patients every year and also supports their family and friends, but to do so it must raise around £4,000 every day. Only 30 per cent of its funding coming from the NHS.

That is why the Midnight Walk is so important and why we need as many Star readers to take part.

Flameshooter scooter is too hot to handle!

A MOPED rider has turned his bike into a real hot machine - by fitting it with a flamethrower!

Plumber Colin Furze (30), from Stamford in Lincolnshire, spent a month converting the 60mph sports scooter in his back garden.

"It's a lot of fun and when I fire the flames out the back it makes me feel just like James Bond," he told reporters.

"The only problem is it can get rather hot if you are riding the moped and blast the flames when the wind is blowing in the wrong direction!"

The plumber initially tried fixing his road-rage weapon to a BMX bike and it worked so well he decided to try it on his moped.

But luckily for other drivers, if he ever uses the fiery gadget on the roads he could get in serious trouble with the police.

"I've been told that if I fire the flames while riding on the road it's equivalent to using a firearm," he said.

"Unfortunately I won't be able to ride it into the centre of town but it's a lot of fun and I'll use it off road."

>>TONIGHT The Rock Contest takes a breather this week as the victorious bands board themselves up in the rehearsal studio to prepare for the next round, which means Incoming makes a brief return to remind us of the embarrassment of riches buried within Harlow's burgeoning music scene. Tonight sees the return of smouldering post-rockers The Taunts with support from the frankly ludicrous Thumpermonkey Lives!, wordplay enthusiasts Hold Your Horse Is and earnest post-punk loudmouths Crooked Mountain, Crooked Sea. Doors are at 8pm and admission is £4 (free for members).

>>FRIDAY Open wide for a healthy dose of rock 'n' roll Psychosis at The Square tonight as The Jim Jones Revue affectionately take an angle grinder to Jerry Lee Lewis's piano and fashion a supercharged rock 'n' roll dragster from its splintered remains. Support comes from Harlow's very own rockabilly rebels The Ladykillers. It will hurt your ears, but maaaaa will it hurt good. Doors are at 8pm and tickets cost £7 (£6 members).

>>SATURDAY The talented young folks at The Square's Rock School take over the venue for the evening for a raucous rock 'n' roll showcase. Expect gravity-defying haircuts, very loud guitars and plenty of fizzy pop. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £6 (£5 members).

Thrilling reminder of classic theatre

REVIEW

Gaslight
Harlow Theatre Company
Victoria Hall Theatre

FILM and television may have pushed the boundaries of the thriller since its humble stage origins, but that once-blissful marriage of a ripping yarn and the camera's seemingly limitless capacity to trick and surprise has inevitably lost some of its lustre.

Uncomplicated storytelling has gradually been replaced by wildly improbable plotlines, while the power of performance has been diluted by self-consciously stylish camerawork and over-zealous editing.

It was tremendously refreshing, therefore, to witness a defiantly old-fashioned stage thriller in the traditional setting of Victoria Hall Theatre.

One of the most remarkable things about Alan Jones's adaptation of Patrick Hamilton's Gaslight is its restraint. All the visible action takes place in the same room with a cast of just three main characters.

Yet the story is such that like Jones' previous production of Daphne De Maurier's Rebecca, its thrills and chills reside as much in the unseen, imagined activity off-stage as the unsettling portrayal of a turbulent, doomed marriage on it.

Tony Saxby's towering performance as psychotic husband and master Jack Manningham was perhaps his finest to date – cruel, commanding and genuinely unnerving.

As the perfect foil to Manningham's volatility, Bernard Moule's impressive turn as the unflappable, affable yet ultimately ruthless Detective Rough generated flashes of humour in the most unexpected of places and gave the production a keen sense of balance.

But perhaps the most affecting performance came from Jane Miles, who as Jack's long-suffering wife Bella majestically portrayed a harrowing journey to the dark heart of her husband's madness and back again. It was testament to the considerable abilities of the cast, director and storyteller that at over two hours the play never outstayed its welcome. The audience remained gripped from start to finish.

As an example of efficacy through efficiency, the production made a bold stand for substance over style – something so many cigar-chomping Hollywood execs could learn from.

Dynamic performances with minimum of props

ART
Moot House Players, Moot Hall

ONE man's meat is another man's poison and Yasmina Reza's quirky, many-layered comedy illustrates how the purchase of a painting can taint and threaten long-standing friendships.

Art-lover Serge (David Schacht) pays 200,000 francs for a canvas by a French minimalist, but conflict arises from the fact that the work is a totally white rectangle, save for one or two diagonal white lines.

The purchase prompts first incredulity and then anger in old pal Marc (Geoff Leeds) while the sensitive Yvan (Clive Weatherley) battles in vain to keep the peace and see both sides of the argument.

The three actors skilfully drew out the quirks and foibles of each character: the blinkered Serge pompously defending his bizarre and expensive acquisition in the manner of The Emperor's New Clothes, sarcastic Marc angrily pouring scorn and venom on both purchase and purchaser, and neurotic Yvan agreeing with Marc but frantically trying to pour oil on troubled waters and see Serge's point of view.

The trio all gave strong and dynamic performances but special mention must go to Weatherley, whose desperate and neurotic Yvan served as a pivot for the whole play; a lens through which the audience regards the whole debacle.

Director Tony Edwards chose to stage the production in the round with the minimum of props. It truly was a case of less is more as the comedy and pathos built, layer upon layer, to the final scene when Marc gives in, takes a closer look at the canvas and perceives the image of a white-clad skier progressing down a snow-covered mountain.

He may not know much about art, but he knows what he likes!

Pub to stage its own mini music festival

GLASTONBURY may still be some way off but festival fever hits Harlow this weekend when The Purple Emperor hosts an Easter eggs-travaganza of live music.

The pub on Momples Road will be putting on a total of eight local bands over Easter weekend, starting tonight (Thursday) with Stacey Lee.

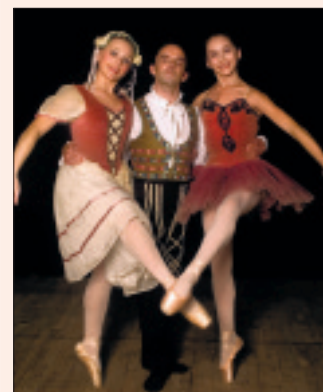

Good Friday sees local favourites Triple X take to the stage in the evening, while Saturday's all-day starts at 1.30pm and features Portland Avenue, Cupid Stunts and Repertoire Dogs.

The mini-festival then comes to a cacophonous close on Easter Sunday with another 1.30pm start and a line-up that includes Scam69, Anthem and East of Java.

Landlord Martin Haines said: "We've got some of the top bands on the local circuit playing over the weekend and hopefully we'll get a good few hundred people down to help create that festival atmosphere."

"Admission is free and we'll be serving home-cooked food right up until 11pm every night so people can make a real day of it if they want to."

Tickets cost £12 (£7 children) from (01279) 431945.

>>DANCE Almost 200 of the south-east's most talented young movers and shakers take to The Playhouse stage next Thursday (April 8) for the first of three nights of spectacular dance in Brat Pack Theatre School's Dance Till Your Shoes Cry. Shows start at 7.30pm, with a Saturday matinee at 2.30pm. Tickets cost £13.50 (£11.50 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

ALMOST 10 years since Shrek emitted his first pungent burp, DreamWorks Animation soars to dizzying heights with a brilliantly-executed and deeply touching story of one boy's friendship with a supposedly fearsome dragon.

Dean DeBlois and Chris Sanders' fantasy combines a traditional rites of passage drama with breathtaking action and uproarious comedy.

The eye-popping 3D format works especially well during the vertiginous flying sequences when you feel like you can almost reach out and touch the clouds as human and beast soar through the air in perfect harmony.

The unlikely hero is a weedy Viking called Hiccup (voiced by Jay Baruchel), who has been told his whole life that dragons are evil beasts that would eat a man as soon as look at him.

HOW TO TRAIN YOUR DRAGON certificate PG 1h37m

Consequently, Hiccup and the other children in the village grow up with a hatred of the creatures and dream of training for battle alongside their warrior fathers. Alas, Hiccup is too feeble and his father, tribe leader Stoick (Gerard Butler), protects the youngster from harm by entrusting him to the care of burly blacksmith, Gobber (Craig Ferguson).

Gobber convinces Stoick that dragon training might give the boy some backbone. So Hiccup joins feisty Astrid (America Ferrara), Fishlegs (Christopher Mintz-Plasse), Snotlout (Jonah Hill) and the twins Ruffnut (Kristen Wiig) and Tuffnut (TJ Miller) in the ring, where they learn to cope with all manner of fire-breathing creatures.

But unbeknown to the other recruits, Hiccup has befriended an injured dragon – a mysterious Night Fury – and has nursed the creature back to health and even nicknamed him Toothless.

As the bond between animal and boy deepens, Hiccup questions everything he has ever been told. How To Train Your Dragon is a wonderful adventure for the entire family, underpinned by the bond between Hiccup and Toothless that develops organically as the two characters become accustomed to each other.

Baruchel milks every ounce of sympathy for young Hiccup as he tries to make everyone happy and become the Viking that Stoick wants him to be.

When Stoick inevitably discovers his son's betrayal and angrily disowns him, there's a genuine lump in our throats which we soon swallow when the script delivers yet another belly laugh before setting up the rousing finale.

CLASH OF THE TITANS certificate 12A 1h46m

DIRECTOR Louis Leterrier updates the classic adventure based on Greek mythology using state-of-the-art digital effects.

Perseus (Sam Worthington) embarks on a quest to avert a war between his father Zeus (Liam Neeson) and vengeful Hades (Ralph Fiennes).

En route he clashes with the gorgons and a giant scorpion in the desert. Both provide formidable tests of his mettle.

The beautiful Io (Gemma Arterton) aids Perseus on his epic odyssey but even the offspring of one of the Gods is powerless against some denizens of the land and sea.

>>>NANNY MCPHEE & THE BIG BANG This sequel to 2005's original Nanny McPhee introduces the mysterious nanny (Emma Thompson) to a family in crisis in wartime Britain. This time she lends a hand when trouble brews after a group of city kids come to stay on a farm and fall out with the local children.

>>>THE BLIND SIDE Sandra Bullock delivers an eye-catching turn as crusading southern mom Leigh Anne Touhy in Memphis, Tennessee. Driving home one night, Leigh spots Michael Oher (Quinton Aaron) wandering along the road and offers the homeless, black teenager a room. The matriarch encourages the lad to improve his grades and chase the possibility of an American football scholarship.

>>>REMEMBER ME Robert Pattinson stars as Tyler Hawkins, the black sheep of a wealthy New York family, in Allen Coulter's bittersweet tale of young love. Tyler agrees to woo his classmate Ally (Emilie de Ravin) purely to spite her overprotective father (Chris Cooper) but they fall head over heels in love, drawn to each other because of their deep emotional wounds. The events of 9/11 impact deeply on the characters as they emerge shell-shocked from the devastation and struggle to piece their lives back together again.

>>>KICK ASS Being a superhero is a dangerous business in Matthew Vaughn's brutal coming of age tale, based on the comic written by Mark Millar and John S Romita Jr. An unnoticed high school student (Aaron Johnson) surprises his comic-book obsessed friends by appearing one day with a new wet suit and declaring that he is going to be a superhero. Kick-Ass is a thrilling, hilarious and at times heartbreaking portrait of teen angst.

>>>BOUNTY HUNTER When Milo Boyd (Gerard Butler) divorced his then wife Nicole (Aniston), he thought that was the end of the misery. But all those old emotional wounds are about to be re-opened in Andy Tennant's fast-paced romantic comedy. Now working as a bounty hunter, Milo is hired to track down his reporter ex-wife, who has jumped bail. When he finally catches up with Nicole, Milo finds himself on the run for his life too and the two former lovebirds have to put their many and obvious differences to one side to avoid their pursuers.

>>>kids' club

>>>RACE TO WITCH MOUNTAIN A Las Vegas cabbie enlists the help of a UFO expert to protect two children with paranormal powers from the clutches of an organization that wants to use them to realise their plans.

>>>PLANET 51 The computer-animated comedy unfolds on a world far from ours where little green men, women and child live in domestic bliss. But the crash-landing of a dim-witted American astronaut (voiced by Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson) causes chaos.

MEET THE 100TH ASSISTED FIRST TIME BUYERS AT FIFTH AVENUE IN HARLOW

In early March Barratt North London celebrated its 100th first time buyer to purchase through a joint purchasing scheme at its Fifth Avenue development in Harlow. Astute purchasers Lauren Denney and boyfriend Jonathan Richards were able to get onto the property ladder, making the most of the current prices available thanks to a joint purchasing scheme available through the developer.

The homeownership scheme which enabled the local couple to purchase a new home with only a 5 per cent deposit, is proving popular in Harlow and in some cases, is the only way for young people to get onto the property ladder.

The 100th purchasers bought a two bedroom house at Fifth Avenue through a Homebuy scheme. Only having to pay for 70 per cent of the value of the property upfront, Lauren and Jonathan were able to get onto the property ladder and will move into their new home very soon.

Lauren comments: "It really is a fantastic scheme at Fifth Avenue and without it there is no doubt that we would have been able to get onto the property ladder. We are so excited about moving into our new home in a couple of weeks and would recommend anyone in the local area to make the most of one of these purchasing schemes before they come to an end."

Glyn Hopping, Managing Director for Barratt North London comments: "This is a fantastic achievement for Fifth Avenue and we are delighted that so many local First Time Buyers, including Lauren and Jonathan have been able to make the most of the funding available to them. At Barratt we are dedicated to helping First Time Buyers achieve their dream of homeownership and Fifth Avenue is an excellent example of where this has been achieved."

Government funded schemes under the Homebuy umbrella such as HomeBuy Direct, as well as Barratt's own Head Start scheme are ideally suited to First Time Buyers struggling to make it into home ownership. They assist by offering eligible purchasers up to a 30 per cent loan on the value of the new home which can be paid back when the property is sold.

Fifth Avenue is superbly located near the main A14 to Chelmsford, half a mile from the railway station, on the northern edge of the town centre, the development is ideal for commuters. The M11 is around three and a half miles away and provides access to Cambridge and the south to the M25 and London. Conveniently, Stansted Airport is around 12 miles away.

Prices for homes currently available at Fifth Avenue start from £260,000 for a 3 bedroom house. For more information, visit barratthomes.co.uk/fifthavenue.

Kia's CUV crosses the divide

Kia's Sorento is looking to change with the times. STEVE WALKER reports.

HOW times change. When the original Kia Sorento was launched in 2003, it was just in the nick of time to book a box seat for the 4x4 boom. It rode the crest of the wave right through the market's expansion years as a value for money alternative to the other family-sized sports utility vehicles and did very nicely out of it.

Then things took a turn for the worse with environmental concerns turning legislation and public opinion against large 4x4 vehicles. By the time Kia announced this latest Sorento as a replacement, SUV had become something of a dirty word.

That led to some quick thinking from the Kia marketing department and a new designation for the Sorento. We're told this model is a CUV or crossover utility vehicle.

What it actually means rather depends on what the vehicle is crossing over from and to but in common automotive industry parlance, it's used to refer to 4x4 vehicles that are designed primarily for road-going duties.

The key appeal of the SUV revolves around its chunky looks, high driving position, interior space and feeling of safety. The crossover vehicle sets out to deliver these qualities without the expensive and heavy-duty off-road mechanicals.

The crossover status assigned to the Sorento by Kia suggests a greater emphasis on road-going ability and that's how things pan out. The car uses the same MacPherson strut front and multi-link rear suspension as the old model, but it's 10mm lower and the one-piece bodyshell of the latest car produces a centre of gravity that's 54mm closer to terra firma.

Engineers have worked to produce a more direct steering set-up with fewer turns lock to lock which should also help on the Tarmac, but Kia still claims that a decent level of off-road ability has been retained.

If you plan on putting the Sorento to the test in the rough, you'll be wanting a 4x4 version. There are both front-wheel-drive and all-wheel-drive versions offered but for off-road driving, towing or coping with slippery on-road conditions, the 4x4 will be the way to go.

The engine options for the European market are comprised of a 2.4-litre petrol unit with a four-cylinder layout and 174PS or a more desirable 2.2-litre diesel with four pots and 197PS.

Models that tow the crossover line tend to be lower and sleeker in appearance than their rough and ready SUV counterparts. The Sorento follows this convention with a more elongated shape than the previous model, a larger front overhang and a more steeply raked windscreen.

A body that's 95mm longer than the old Sorento at 4,685mm suggests an increase in interior space and, sure enough, rear legroom is increased along with headroom. This car is certainly now a genuine seven-seater with much more space for occupants seated in the (optional) third row.

Access to the cabin is also improved as the 'hip-point' for the front and second row seats is lowered by 37 mm, the cabin floor is lowered by 32 mm and the second row near-side seats double-fold to allow easier entry and exit for third row passengers.

For maximum versatility when accommodating people and cargo, the Sorento's second row seat is split 60/40 and the optional third row seat is split 50/50. These seats' backrests fold almost flat to extend available boot space. Luggage space is impressive, with cargo capacity increased by 15 per cent over the original model thanks to moving the tailgate back by 70mm.

Kia is known for its generosity when it comes to specifications and the Sorento is unlikely to be a disappointment in this respect. Standard equipment on all models runs to alloy wheels, electric-adjustable door mirrors, air-conditioning, keyless entry with central locking, an RDS radio and CD player, electronic stability control, hill-start assist control, driver and front passenger airbags, front row, side airbags, full-length curtain airbags and 'active' head restraints.

Customers will get a choice of five or six speed manual gearboxes plus five or six-speed automatics depending on the engine choice.

As an option, a two-part glass panorama roof is available. The rear section is fixed, while the front section is powered and can be tilted for ventilation or slide fully back to enjoy uninterrupted views.

The subtle retargeting of the Sorento 4x4 by Kia is a move that should serve the car well. The previous generation model was a simple, unapologetic SUV with lots of size and space for the price. The latest car offers many of the same qualities but takes a slightly more nuanced approach that's flagged up by Kia's insistence that it's a CUV.

Sleeker, prettier, more composed on the road, cleaner and with loads of room inside, it sounds like a 4x4 well suited to the modern world.

to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
A big change occurs in the heavens this week, putting you back in touch with the side of you that loves good food and wine, and the odd expedition to the shops, for some therapy, of the retail variety. Yet with Saturn about to sneak back into your health and fitness sector, you'll need to show a modicum of self discipline. Love can be both saucy and stormy! Call me for your love scope...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
If you have been having a few sleepless nights, perhaps about your love life or because someone has been less than loyal or sincere, you can bounce back strongly now. True, charisma and this can be absolutely perfect, but your sex appeal soars and this can see new interest heading your way. Yet when it comes to changes at home, do be patient Taurus. Call now for your love scope in full...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
A little bit of treachery may be around you. Someone can also tell you something in confidence, and it's essential you don't divulge this. A repair may also unexpectedly need attending to at home. It may even be something that you thought you sorted out last year. An older relative may also need extra support or there can be inter-generational tensions. Call for more news and astral advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Friendships really do make the world go around, but one person who tends to take your kindness for granted, could start to grate. If you are someone with old fashioned values, good for you, so don't be tempted to compromise them. Mostly, don't let anyone browbeat you or put a big guilt trip on you around money or possessions. Stay strong Cancer. Call now for your financial forecast in full...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Your sensitivities are set to be heightened, and so are those of someone you need to deal with. This could find you and them, almost accidentally getting into a squabble. Part of the problem is the harsh nature of planet Mars, which squares to both Mercury and Venus. Charm will take you everywhere, an inflated ego, nowhere. Better to adopt a light touch! Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
Saturn rewinds into your zodiac sign after a five month absence. Perhaps a relationship is not as ideal as you thought, or requires more work. Balancing your need for excitement, with the need for commitment, could be another issue. This week with the sun, suggesting particularly, you can find that if you are enterprising, yourself restless. Or is your efforts can see you something or someone from your past, still powerfully at work? Call now for more Call me for your financial forecast...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
This is not a good week to throw caution to the wind, and especially around property, savings, or investments. So if you find yourself with a world beating money making idea on your hands, head down to your local bank or enterprise centre, to get some good solid business advice. Funnily enough, if you do, your project can do really well Libra. Call me for your financial forecast...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Love can sizzle, but only if you and yours can agree to disagree on some big issues. If you're looking for a new involvement, you certainly won't be lacking in back strongly now. True, charisma and this can be absolutely perfect, but your sex appeal soars and this can see new interest heading your way. Yet when it comes to changes at home, do be patient Taurus. Call now for your love scope in full...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
You might find someone wants you to help them out and your first instinct can be to readily agree to do so. The problem is that later you may wonder if they've got around you to do this. However, this can be a time when work can become more enjoyable, as long as overtime and excessive pressures, don't close in on your own personal space. Call your special prediction line for more astral advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Fun, fun, fun! Yes, there is a great deal to look forward to this week, and your love life in particular can get much more passionate. However, if you and yours are finding it harder to get along, jealousy and possessiveness can rear their heads. Either one of you may want to be more of a free spirit, the other be more clingy. Compromise may prove hard. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Even if you have been resistant to getting things done at home, your drive can go up several notches this week. Now, if everyone is as equally galvanized as you are, be it anyone you live with, or any tradespeople you have hired, all well and good. If not, you could easily become frustrated by the slow pace of things and a few sparks could fly. Call your special prediction line for more advice...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
You can prove to be one of the most convivial members of the zodiac this week, with your lively mind keen to have lots of bright and bubbly chat. By midweek, the excitement, with the need for fortune bringer Jupiter, still commitment, could be in your sign, links superbly another issue. This week with the sun, suggesting particularly, you can find that if you are enterprising, yourself restless. Or is your efforts can see you something or someone from your past, still powerfully at work? Call now for more Call me for your financial forecast...

Running club men seal team prize

THREE fantastic runs gave Harlow Running Club the male team prize at the St Clare Hospice 10K race.

Ex-Paralympian gold medallist Noel Thatcher was the fastest Harlow runner home in Sunday's race.

He clocked 35 minutes and 18 seconds for second place from 457 runners. He also won the first veteran 40 prize.

Youngsters shine in track opener

THE cold weather did not deter several Harlow-based athletes who began their outdoor season in fine style at the Havering open meeting.

Mark Hall School pupil Tyler Bown (15) recorded a top victory in the U-17 boys 150m, winning in 18.1 seconds.

Alicia McAdell (12) was unfortunate to be pushed to the ground at the start of the combined U-13 and U-15 girls 600m. She soldiered on with a gash to a leg and still finished third in her age group (2 mins 1 sec).

The brave all-rounder even played for Tegate Netball Club as they reached the semi-final of a tournament held on the same day!

Twelve-year-old Sky Mulvey, a Mark Hall School student, was 4th in the U-13 girls 600m in 2:05.

Mark Hall School mate Ben Pattison (12) was 6th in the U-13 boys 600m (2:01), while Burnt Mill School's Amelia Barrett (13) was 6th in the U-15 girls 600m (1:56).

Stewards' Sam Benge (16) was 4th in the U-17 boys 600m in 1:37, while Harlow's Tom Larkin (17) was 9th in the U-20 men's 150m (18.0s).

Burnt Mill's Phoebe Fuhr (U-11) ran 13.1s in the 80m and 25.5s for the 150m.

At Victoria Park East in London, three Harlow pupils ran in the Young Athletes 2.6 mile road race on Saturday.

Sam Benge won the U-17 age group in 15 mins 6 secs, while Burnt Mill's Perry Rowan (13) stepped up an age group for 3rd in the U-15 race in 15:55.

Harlow Athletic Club's Isobel Moss was 3rd in the U-15 girls race in 17:23.

Greyhound selections

THERE is no racing at Harlow Greyhound Stadium this Good Friday. Here are the selections for Saturday's meeting (April 3).

7.30pm Marfur Daley; 7.45pm Truly Supreme (NB); 8pm Fuel Oil Dream; 8.15pm Sunoak Reece; 8.30pm Tam The Bam; 8.45pm Lukes Barney; 9pm Lislevean Light (NAP); 9.15pm Slipper; 9.30pm Justins Princess; 9.45pm Swift Daphne; 10pm Half A Chance; 10.15pm Steady Major; 10.30pm Kilquane Jack.

Sky the limit for brilliant Bowen

HARLOW'S Luke Bowen, pictured right, will be keen to impress as Rye House Rockets take on Birmingham in the opening Premier League match of the season on Easter Monday (7.30pm start) in front of the Sky television cameras.

The Hoddesdon hosts go into the match riding high after last Saturday's narrow 47-43 victory over the Somerset Rebels, where Bowen's trademark never-say-die attitude saw him secure a five-point tally from his four rides.

But the Brummies are on fire following home and away challenge victories over Stoke, and are hotly tipped for honours this campaign.

"When Sky decided to pick this fixture against Birmingham it looked attractive because they had a top two in Jason Lyons (a former Grand Prix star and World Cup winner) and Steve Johnston," said Rockets promoter Len Silver.

"But what they didn't know was the rest of the team would be so powerful and have such a strong start to the season.

"So what looked like a close fought match on paper now looks like it will go right down to the wire. I'm expecting a fantastic encounter - and a real nail biter.

"My riders won't be thinking too much about the cameras, they know they've got a job to do and they'll just get on with it."

Silver was impressed with Bowen's performance against the Rebels.

"He was unlucky in his races, most of them had to be re-run when he was leading. In that situation it's hard to go back to the start line and do it all over again."

Rockets' 19-year-old Swedish star Linus Sundstrom stormed to victory in all of his five rides, and was ably supported by reserve Kyle Hughes.

An early fall did nothing to dampen his enthusiasm and a plucky performance netted him an 11-point haul.

Rockets skipper Chris Neath got his team off to a great start, taking the chequered flag in Heat 1, while Stefan Ekberg quickly dispelled any race rust gathered during his year's absence.

Eighteen-year-old Sam Masters top scored for the Rebels with 13 points.

The Rockets had to claw back a six-point deficit to win a last race decider.

A rough ride across Heats 2 and 3 - which saw Hughes and Jordan Frampton fall and Kurt Shields penalised 15 metres for a tape infringement - left them trailing 12-6, but Hughes quickly rebounded by passing Tommy Allen to join Sundstrom at the front of Heat 4, and bring the Rockets back to within two points.

A 4-2 from Bowen and the hard chasing Frampton against Cory Gathercole edged them four points clear.

Three of the remaining five races were shared, but the other two went in the Rockets' favour.

Sundstrom captured a vital Heat 13 and then ensured victory with a fifth and final win in the last race.

Kyle takes on captain's role

KYLE Plumridge has been appointed as the new Harlow Hockey Club men's first team captain for next season.

The 24-year-old right-back has taken over from Joe Symonds who has stepped down after two years in the hot seat.

Plumridge said: "I'm looking forward to it. I am hoping we will be a bit more convincing next season and get a top half finish."

Waltham Forest 2, Harlow 2

East Men's Hockey League, division four south east

Symonds rounded off his captaincy with an equaliser five minutes from time in their last game at Waltham Forest on Saturday.

Harlow finished 7th in the 12-team table.

The visitors took the lead on 15 minutes after winning a penalty corner. Plumridge stepped up to place a classy finish just

Forest exerted pressure and equalised 10 minutes before the break.

Harlow wasted an opportunity after half-time when Stuart Kirk fired a shot straight at the last defender.

Forest then exerted prolonged pressure which resulted in them going 2-1 up.

However, the visitors kept going and equalised five minutes from the end.

Chris Shearman-Slack turned past the last defender on the halfway line and out-paced the Forest defence. He then drew the goalkeeper out and squared the ball to Symonds who slotted home for his first goal of the season.

Symonds added: "It was a great way to end. I'd like to thank my players for their great effort over my two years as captain. It has been fun from beginning to end. I wish Kyle Plumridge all the best."

HARLOW: Johnson, Symonds (C), Plumridge, Kirk, Shearman-Slack, Hastler, Smith, Gorringer, Krzoska, Otley, Light. Sub: Grace.

Ladies face wait in bid for promotion

THERE will be an anxious wait for Harlow Hockey Club's women's first team before they hear whether they have been promoted into the East League.

Harlow clinched second in the Essex League premier division after two victories last weekend.

Harlow were in third spot and four points behind second-placed Croxtly II before successive home wins over Colchester II (4-1) on Saturday and lowly Redbridge & Ilford (5-1) on Sunday.

Carolyn Rushton's two goals against Colchester gave her the top goalscorer award for the division with an impressive 25 goals.

Colchester took a lead inside the first minute on Saturday after the hosts were unable to clear.

Harlow equalised after 12 minutes. Captain Emma Twiddle's perfect through-ball to Jess Ashford split the Colchester defence and Ashford coolly slotted home past the advancing keeper.

Five minutes later, a three-player move ended with Charlotte Byers converting Ashford's cross.

Five minutes before the break, Rushton fired home a rebound to put Harlow 3-1 up.

Rushton completed a brace and the scoring midway through the second half when she made a well-timed interception before firing home.

In Sunday's game, Redbridge took a surprise lead after only five minutes.

The hosts recovered and equalised on 11 minutes when Twiddle converted from a penalty corner.

Then a mix-up in the Redbridge defence allowed Ashford to convert from close range.

Georgina Esterhuysen made Redbridge pay for poor defending with Harlow's third goal.

She completed a brace on the half-hour mark after Sonya Amos deflected Rushton's shot across the goal into her path for a firm finish.

Harlow's last goal came with 15 minutes left. A short corner routine saw Twiddle finish after a one-two with Amos.

Harlow have enjoyed a fine season on the pitch but it will forever be remembered for the tragic loss of their goalkeeper Nicky Newland in a car accident on October 17 last year.

Young Rams eye top two place

A TOP two finish can still be achieved by Harlow Rugby Club's U-14 side if they beat second-placed Westcliffians by nine or more points in their last game.

Harlow lie in third spot in division three of the Essex U-14 League and will face Westcliffians later this month.

Harlow convincingly won their penultimate match when they triumphed 51-10 at Chingford.

The Young Rams played some exceptional rugby on Sunday, scoring nine tries.

Rhys Davies, playing in the back row, scored straight from the kick-off.

The second try was scored by centre Scott Whitby.

Flanker Fraser Bleach and wing Jordan Shipp scored first-half tries and Harlow led 20-5 at the break.

Second-half tries were scored by prop Harry Judge, centre Mitchell Sinfield and lock Luke Barnard, while Davies scored two more to complete a hat-trick.

Chay Clark (2) and Whitby kicked conversions.

Harlow Colts found it tough going when they went down 47-14 at home to a lively Stevenage side.

Harlow's tries came from outside centre Lewis Alderman and inside centre Kieran Gleeson. Alderman kicked both conversions.

The U-17s played in a curtain-raiser prior to the first XV game at Thurrock and lost 62-5 against a Thurrock side which included several colts (U-19) players.

East London beat Harlow U-16 42-27. Harlow's try scorers were James Sinfield (3) and Luke O'Len, while Jack Perry got a try and one conversion.

Success for Hawks in JCVL finale

THERE was success for Harlow Hawks Basketball Club's Under-17 team as the Junior Central Venue League (JCVL) concluded on Sunday.

Hawks' U-11 team were runners-up, but both of the Harlow club's U-14 teams endured disappointing finishes in the lower half of the table.

The U-17s won their opening game against North Herts Knights after a sloppy first half.

Hawks fought back from 18-11 down to triumph 41-28.

In their other game of the day against the Essex & Herts Leopards, a disappointing second quarter was their undoing when turnovers lead to a procession of lay-ups for their opponents.

A valiant final quarter reduced the deficit to 54-34 at the final whistle, but the Harlow side had already done enough to win their age group.

Hawks' U-11s finished their season on a high by winning all three of their games.

A 36-30 win over eventual winners Stevenage Scorpions I in the first game of the day maintained their slim hopes of winning the title.

Harlow were behind for most of the match but took the lead going into the final minute.

Hawks beat Scorpions II 36-17 in their second game.

Subsequent wins for the Scorpions I in other matches meant Harlow could only finish second as they beat North Herts Knights 32-8 in their final game.

All relative in squash club's annual finals

TWO generations of the Gear family shone in Harlow Squash Club's annual championship finals.

In the final of the main competition, David Gear lost in straight sets to last year's losing finalist Marc Beaton.

Beaton ran away with the first set 15-6.

The next two sets were closer as Beaton won 15-8, 15-11 to become Harlow Squash Club champion for 2010.

In the plate final for first round losers, David's father Ron Gear took on tricky left-hander Dave Lewis.

Ron was no match for Lewis and also suffered a straight sets loss.

Spot of petulance costs Hawks dear

Harlow Tn 1, Potters Bar 2

Ryman League, division one north

By FARHAN AHMED

THE survival chances of Harlow Town suffered a huge setback as they slumped to a 2-1 defeat against Potters Bar.

Both sides converted a penalty and had a man sent off, but Potters Bar left with the points after captain Joe O'Brian's winner from 12 yards was swiftly followed Liam Thomas's dismissal for kicking Guy Helman.

It compounded a wretched afternoon for Thomas, who along with central defensive partner Paul Kear failed to deal with the away side's aerial threat.

Harlow hoped to respond to defeat against Heybridge Swifts, but made the worst possible start inside two minutes. The Hawks defence failed to clear a Matt Bennett goal kick and Jake Parrat converted the gift past keeper James Hasell's despairing dive.

The hosts responded brightly and parity was soon restored.

Denis Paratusic cynically brought down Julian Edwards in the box, who was sent clear by a clever Jason Mason flick.

Paratusic was shown a red card for denying a goalscoring opportunity, and Mark Taylor rifled the spot-kick home to level with just nine minutes gone.

A turning point came three minutes later, when Shaun

Sheri swoop an Easter treat

THE Hawks are hoping to lure former Spurs favourite Teddy Sheringham, right, out of retirement for Easter Monday's home match against Enfield Town.

A club insider said: "Teddy's always had a soft spot for Harlow and it's not too far from his Essex home." Sheringham would line up with Reece Dobson in a new-look Hawks' attack.

TAYL GUNNER: The Potters Bar keeper can do nothing about Mark Taylor's penalty. However, the visitors had the last laugh (HSP0637863)

Gliddon's effort was controversially disallowed for offside after Bennett parried a Taylor free-kick. Hawks' protests were waved away by the referee.

Despite their numerical advantage, Harlow struggled to make inroads. Long balls from Steve McNamara, making his first start, were comfortably dealt with by the Potters Bar defence.

And the Scholars should have been ahead before the break. Leon Skinner's free header from a corner hit a post and rebounded to safety.

Hawks would have hoped to make the extra man count in the second half but a petulant kick by young defender Thomas saw him see red and concede a penalty which O'Brian coolly dispatched.

The blow of going behind stunned Harlow and they failed to create any further clear-cut openings, though substitute Adriano Lawson fluffed a great chance from Fiston Manuella's cross in the last minute.

Kevin Warren, Hawks assistant boss, spoke to the Star after Saturday's match. He said: "Our situation is not looking good. Realistically we need to win six of our seven games to have a chance of staying up.

"I was disappointed with the referee's decision to send Liam off. After that, we were chasing the game."

HARLOW TN: Hasell, Protheroe, McNamara, Kear, Thomas, Manuella, Taylor, Mason, Edwards, Dobson (Lawson 81), Gliddon (Hayes 72). Subs not used: Horton (gk), Gerbaldi.

● HAWKS defender Steve McNamara suffered a broken wrist in this match but bravely carried on despite being in pain. He is expected to miss the rest of the season.

Keeper's shoot-out heroics capture cup final joy

INTER Epping's stand-in keeper James Simpson was the hero as his side beat 10-man Garnon Epping 3-2 in a penalty shoot-out to decide the Harlow & District League Division Four Cup final.

Sunday's exciting final at Bishop's Stortford Football Club produced a 2-2 draw after 120 minutes.

Inter Epping, right, went down to 10 as they had used both their substitutes when Daniel Matthews suffered concussion in a head collision with Garnon sub Andy Wackett who sustained a nasty gash and was replaced.

Garnon's Tony Ruff was then sent off for a second bookable offence. Simpson then came to the fore, making two saves in the penalty shoot-out.

Inter's Ben Russell put his spot-kick away, before Simpson saved from Garnon's Tom Casey to seal the win. Russell Pamphlin's spot-kick had earlier drawn a fantastic save from Simpson.

Garnon keeper Scott Kelly, who had suffered a dislocated finger in the final, also made a good penalty save from Inter's Tom Willmott. Simpson said: "It was a bit of a battle but we got there in the end and it was a good game to be involved in."

Inter went ahead after 19 minutes of the first half.

A through ball by Daniel Matthews released Sean Marshall and he slotted home from eight yards.

Melvin Smith made it 1-1 on 39 minutes with a close-range header.

After Inter went down to 10 men, Garnon took the lead when Glen Bowers volleyed in from 10 yards out.

However, after Ruff got his second caution for dissent, Inter were spurred on. Oakes smashed home from 10 yards to make it 2-2, but it was Simpson's heroics which gave Inter the cup.

He was replaced by 19-year-old reserve Adriano Lawson, making a rare first team appearance.

The first half was quite bad and was marked by generally poor passing.

Ginev and Francis-Adeyinka went close for Harlow, while Hamici forced a smart save from Hasell.

Centre-half Paul Kear went off on 41 minutes with a hamstring injury and was replaced by debutant Tom Gerbaldi.

Maldon broke the deadlock on 59 minutes. A half-cleared corner was played back in and Hamici rifled in.

But Harlow equalised six minutes later. A Shaun Gliddon corner was cleared back to the Harlow player who curled a delicious shot from the right which eluded everybody and went into the far corner.

However, Maldon regained the lead on 70 minutes. James Abbott broke into the home box but lost control before the ball fell nicely to Hamici who fired a low shot home.

Reece Dobson enjoyed a few openings for Harlow.

The best came and went on 80 minutes when Ginev's pass found him in space but he dithered and his shot was blocked.

Maldon sub Dan Rowell nodded a free header over on 85 minutes but there was no way back for Harlow.

Hawks caretaker boss Tommy Cunningham said: "You can get away with missing one or two players but it's difficult when you have six out."

"We were committed but paid for our errors. I feel we would have won with a full side."

HARLOW TN: Hasell 6, Hayes 6, Gliddon 7, Kear 5 (Gerbaldi 42, 5), Thomas 6, Maxwell (Lawson 9, 5), Edwards 5, Mason 5, Francis-Adeyinka 5, Ginev 6, Dobson 4. Subs not used: Hardy (gk), Warren. Att: 93.

Champs prove too strong

A good move between Simon Vanbeck and Rob Mackie saw the latter stopped short just in front of the Thurrock line.

Harlow also declined penalty opportunities including two in front of the posts to go for tries.

However, the hosts had the whiphand.

Retigan scored the first try of the second half, bursting through the visitors' defence to score. Burns kicked the conversion.

Worster completed his try-hat-trick when he scored in the corner.

Substitute Ben Madden scored Thurrock's seventh try, converted by Burns for a 43-3 home lead.

The last 10 minutes saw great rugby from the hosts.

Ben Stanley and Madden scored tries, both of which were converted.

HARLOW: Mackie, Vanbeck, L. Bowering, McFerran, Grimley (Smith 64), Dobson, Harron, Prindville (Branch 56), Wilkins, Lane, Palmer, Eynon, Romaine (Roberts 52), M. Bowering, Claridge.

Drop looms for beaten Town

IT was a night when nothing went right for the Hawks as they slipped to a home defeat on Tuesday against Maldon Town and almost certain relegation, writes DAVID RIMMER. Harlow are unlikely to finish outside the bottom two now. A weakened Harlow side were without utility player Mark Taylor (thigh injury) for the Maldon clash, as well as central defender Danny Chapman (groin injury). Right-back Lee Protheroe (on a Uefa coaching course) and left-back Spencer Knight (holiday) were also unavailable. Harlow gave a debut to striker Ivo Ginev who has joined from fellow division one north strugglers Leyton, while forward Tashan Francis-Adeyinka returned as well after playing for the Hawks last term. Harlow almost went behind on three minutes when Laurant Hamici was released and his shot was well blocked by home keeper James Hasell. Four minutes later, midfielder Ryan Maxwell's comeback ended. The former Raith Rovers player, who suffered neck and back muscle damage in the Hawks' win over VCD Athletic a month ago, was forced off with a recurrence of his injury. >> Continued on page 95

Double blow for Hawks

TWO OUT: Fiston Manuella, right, has quit the Hawks, while midfield partner Ryan Maxwell, inset, is out with a recurrence of the back injury he suffered against VCD Athletic HAWKS boss Tommy Cunningham was hoping to get a central midfielder and a centre-half for Easter as this season's transfer deadline loomed.

Cunningham must replace influential midfielder Fiston Manuella. He left the Hawks after just a four-week spell to join Zamaretto premier division side Hemel Hempstead Town earlier this week.

His departure has been compounded by the recurrence of a back injury to key central midfielder player Ryan Maxwell, which should rule him out for the Easter period.

Cunningham said: "Losing Fiston was a blow. He is a ball winner and good in the air. He could also play a bit too."

Paul Kear could be doubtful for this weekend after pulling up with a hamstring injury in the 2-1 defeat against Maldon Town on Tuesday, while centre back Liam Thomas faces a three-game suspension after his red card against Potters Bar Town last Saturday.

The deadline for signing new players was last night (Wednesday).

Cunningham said: "With Liam coming up for a suspension I also need to get in a centre back."

By DAVID RIMMER

Harlow visit Romford this Saturday before they host Enfield Town on Easter Monday (3pm KO). "We have a good chance against Romford. Nobody would give us much chance against Enfield but if we can get a good crowd in that can only help us," said Cunningham.

Right-back and skipper Lee Protheroe and left-sided player Spencer Knight were unavailable for the Maldon match but should return this Saturday.

"We will have Lee Protheroe and Spencer Knight back," beamed Cunningham.

Full-back Mark Taylor (thigh) could return on Monday, but centre-half Danny Chapman (groin) is out.

The Hawks boss knows Harlow are unlikely to finish outside the bottom two now but still hopes to avoid the drop.

Teams higher up the Non-League structure may drop out and second from bottom might be enough to escape relegation.

One extra place is available through Chester City's demise, while Tuesday's opponents Maldon are expected to merge with Tiptree. This new team could play in the Essex Senior League.

Cunningham added: "We cannot finish third from bottom now but we can still try and get up to Leyton.

"If we finish second from bottom that still may leave us in good stead."

Rams torn apart by league champions

THE Rams have made a big improvement since Christmas but found league champions and hosts Thurrock far too good.

Thurrock have only lost one league game this season and showed their class on Saturday as they ran in nine tries.

Harlow enjoyed a reasonable amount of territory in the first quarter and looked as if they might make a contest of it, but Thurrock

Thurrock 57, Harlow 3
RFU London division two north east had the extra cutting edge.

Darryl Worster burst through to score a fifth-minute try from a well-timed run and Aaron Burns kicked the conversion.

Shortly after, Dan Carey went over for an unconverted try.

On 20 minutes, Rams fly-half Michael Dobson, returning from a broken nose, kicked a penalty.

However, Thurrock started to dominate possession and scored two more first-half tries.

Fine passing set up Bradleigh Retigan for a touch down converted by Burns, before Worster added his second try on the stroke of half-time as Harlow trailed 24-3.

The second half saw the visitors unfortunate not to score.
